Bay’s John Bezou still has Grand Slam in sight after Atacama Crossing

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

Lieutenant Colonel John Bezou (Ret.) recently returned from Atacama, Chile, where he completed the Atacama Crossing ultramarathon. This race marked the third ultramarathon (155-mile race over seven days) on the third different continent that Bezou has completed this calendar year.

When Bezou started his quest back in April 2022 with an ultramarathon in Namibia on the continent of Africa, he was attempting to complete the 4 Deserts Grand Slam Plus which was five ultramarathons on five different continents in a calendar year. He completed Namibia in April followed by an ultramarathon in the Republic of Georgia in June. Next, he traveled to Lapland, Finland, where he started an ultramarathon but had to pull out due to injury in the second stage of the seven day race. Bezou suffered a dislocation of the proximal tibio-fibular joint which also caused a slight tear in his meniscus.

Bezou commented, “When an athlete begins a quest, they start with the mindset that nothing will keep them from obtaining that goal. However, through the gauntlet that an athlete endures in striving for an ultimate goal sometimes obstacles arise that force one to take a different path to success. While I did suf-

I was striving to become just the third American to achieve the 4 Deserts Grand Slam Plus which is the five ultramarathons. However, I still have the opportunity to claim the 4 Deserts Grand Slam which is completing four ultramarathons on four different continents. That is where my focus is now.”

Bezou rehabbed his injury through different therapies including platelet enrichment therapy. In fact, his therapy

Bay High band sets new school record

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

High school band members don’t always get the glory their football-playing peers enjoy, but the Bay High Band recently set some new records of its own.

The Bay High Band competed at the 4A State Marching Championships last month at Pearl High School and received third place in the state out of 18 bands.

“This was our highest score and placement in school history,” Bay Waveland School District Director of Bands Eric Fry said. “We are so proud of the student students!”

The MHSAA-MBDA State Marching Band Championship is an annual event to select the top high school band in each class in the state of Mississippi.

For Bay High’s 4A classification, 18 bands qualified.

“The Bay High Band qualified by receiving superior ratings from every band judge at our State Marching Evaluation on Oct. 8,” Fry said. “This is the 4th consecutive marching season that the Bay High Marching Band has qualified for Championships. The

MLB Pitcher Zac Houston meets with Boys & Girls Club, headlines ‘A Taste of the Future’

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast celebrated their annual “A Taste of the Future” event on Friday, with special celebrity guest Zac Houston, pitcher for the Detroit Tigers.

“It was great,” Boys & Girls Club - Hancock Unity board member Holly Lemoine-Raymond said. “Zac was so humble and sweet. He was awesome, and really great with the kids.”

During the event, hosted this year at the Bay St. Louis Community Hall, patrons enjoyed samples of dishes from several local restaurants, in the process, raising money for the Boys & Girls Club - Hancock Unit.

“It was a really good experience,” Raymond said. “I enjoyed it, and I think everybody else did, too.”

Before the event, Houston took time to visit with the children at the Hancock Unit, located at the historic Valena C. Jones School property on Old Spanish Trail.

Houston signed baseballs for the students, and did a lengthy question-and-answer session.

Some of the questions the kids asked included, “If you could play any other sport as a professional, what would it be?” Zac answered “Golf.”

“What’s the fastest pitch you’ve thrown?” “99 miles per hour.”

One of the children asked how long Zac had played baseball.

“I’ve done this forever,” he said. It doesn’t really feel like a job — I feel very blessed.”

Houston, a Poplarville native, was drafted by the Tigers in the 11th round of the 2016 Major League Baseball Draft.

He told the students that it’s important to follow your dreams, but “You have to work hard. You have to know what you’re doing. Even on days when you don’t feel like it, you still have to show up and do your best.

“Sometimes you’re going to fail Don’t let failure stop you, don’t let fear of failure get in the way of what you want to do.”

For over fifty years, the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast has played a critical role in the lives of young people on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Their mission, “To enable all young people, especially those who need us most, to reach their full potential as productive, caring, and responsible citizens” has helped foster healthy lifestyles, academic success, and character traits that will last for generations to come. In 2019 alone, Boys & Girls Clubs of the Gulf Coast was able to reach over 5,500 children in Harrison and Hancock counties. The Hancock County Unit, located in Bay St. Louis, serves over 200 youth from the community.

‘Moonlight on the Bay’ draws huge crowd for ‘Happy Days’

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Hancock Health Foundation re-started its decades-old “Moonlight on the Bay” program, drawing a huge crowd to the Bay St. Louis Community Hall for a “sock hop” headlined by Elvis tribute artist Nick Perkins.

“We’re just glad to be back in the game here after being out since 2019,” Hancock Health Foundation President Hank Wheeler said, lamenting the COVID-19 pandemic that forced the board to postpone the event. “We had started booking this Elvis tribute guy three years ago. We booked him and had to cancel, booked him and had to cancel. Finally, we were able to pull it off.”

The mission of the Hancock Health Foundation is to assist with improving the health and well-being of people who live and work in Hancock County, especially people whose unique healthcare needs have not been met because of unforeseen circumstances.

Moonlight on the Bay has been the Hancock Health Foundation’s major fund-raising event since 1994. This year’s event was somewhat less formal than the black-tie galas of the past, Wheeler said.

“We did the one in 2019, it was a great show we put on, but we found we were spending more money putting it on than we were making.”

The theme of this year’s event was “Happy Days are Here Again!”

“We appreciate everyone who came and dance the night away with us,” Wheeler said. “It was a very successful event. We ended up selling about 150 seats. The turn-out was really great, we got a lot of support.”

Wheeler thanked his fellow board members, including Vice President Tracey Benzing; President Sherry Ponder; Treasurer Linda Tucker; Jay Trapani; Helen Gaines; Tess Richardson; Penny Elkins; Melanie Hotard; and Melissa Biehl.

“Thank you to everyone who donated items for our silent auction, because that was a great success, too,” Wheeler said. “And we had a lot of other volunteers, too, who helped us the night of the event. Nancy Moynan was our emcee. Uncle Joe’s was awesome — they did a great job with the food.

The photographer was J.P. Blakeney from Poplarville.

Flag Retirement Program

Edmond Fahey Funeral Home works with local residents and the veterans services organizations to properly retire any U.S. flag that has reached the end of its service.

Our program is designed to honor our national heroes, our military veterans, and to give dignity to our American Flag when it is no longer worthy of display.

We strive to see that each veteran being cremated has a flag. There is no charge for this service to our veterans.

According to the United States code, Title 4, Chapter 1, Subsection 8: "The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning."

If you would like to honor a deceased veteran by donating an aged or worn flag to be properly disposed of, you may do so by delivering the flags to our funeral home located on the corner of Necaice Avenue and Main Street.

am very fortunate and honored to have seen my band grow so much during my four years. The long days and hard work have paid off in a record-setting way for us. I am excited to see where this band program will go in the future.” “I enjoyed every part of this year from band camp to championships,” Anajah Laneaux, senior color guard member, said. “I will miss every part of this program and I have made many long lasting memories!” “Though some points of this past season were very tedious, the outcome for us, the band, was very rewarding,” Nyla Miller, sophomore flute player, said. “This season may have been one of the most remarkable so far, and I hope the band as a whole can relive more moments just like Saturday, Oct. 29. It was truly amazing seeing the faces of all my bandmates after hearing our placement. I believe the Bay High Band program has a bright future for years to come.”

Seasonal Flu Vaccinations Now Available at All County Health Departments

SEA COAST ECHO

Seasonal influenza vaccinations are now available for children and qualifying adults at all Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) county health departments. Flu vaccination is recommended for everyone 6 months of age and older as the best protection against the flu.

“In Mississippi we are already seeing increased flu activity, including reports of increased hospital admissions for flu-related illness and increased emergency department visits,” said MSDH State Epidemiologist Dr. Paul Byers. “We recommend that all Mississippians get their flu shots every year because this can be and is beneficial in protecting against severe illness, complications and hospitalizations.”

Byers added that both the flu vaccination and the COVID-19 vaccination or boosters can be given at the same time.

Flu season typically starts in November and lasts as late as March in Mississippi, but usually peaks anywhere between December and February.

Individual flu cases are not reported to MSDH, but the agency monitors flu activity through the ILI System, made up of healthcare providers in Mississippi who report the percentage of patients with flu-like symptoms to a statewide database. Providers participating in the system also submit respiratory samples for flu testing to the MSDH Public Health Laboratory. State health officials use this information to determine the presence and spread of flu throughout the state.

Be selfish

Recently, a dear acquaintance of mine offered me some great advice and support.

It was totally unsolicited. He had just noticed that I didn't seem like myself at an event that I covered.

Of course, I always try to hide how I'm feeling, but more often than not, my facial expressions and eyes give me away.

But for the most part, and I know it's a bad habit, I keep a lot of things bottled up unless I'm just in the mood to talk or feel it's important to speak up.

Then there's people who don't like hearing what they label "negative" or even criticisms. That's because they always want people to be bright and cheerful, no matter what, without having to put in any effort to fix anything.

In my opinion, it's lazy to just tell people to smile more or just think positively.

I follow Adam Grant on Instagram, and he always has thoughtful and insightful things to say.

"Toxic positivity is pressuring people to look on the bright side. They have to suppress anxiety, anger, sadness, and grief. Healthy support is shielding people from the dark side. You invite them to express their pain, and show them they're not alone and won't feel it forever."

I absolutely hate toxic positivity and a lot of the time, I'm surrounded by it. Here, smile and ignore this problem, and magically, it will go away.

No. It doesn't work like that.

I saw my friend last week and he asked to speak with me one on one.

To my surprise, he took my hands and prayed with me.

Then he took me aside and asked me what was bothering me.

He listened and then offered thoughtful advice. There was none of that just smile through it nonsense. He didn't crack jokes about my problems.

It's very refreshing to have people like that in my life.

He prayed for a change in my circumstances.

He also offered me some advice on a subject that I've been working on for years, which is learning how to say "no" to things and to be more selfish and take more time for myself.

At some point, you have to realize that you really can't do it all, can't be in more than one place at once, and can't be the support for everyone.

Slowly, but surely, I've been learning how to do that.

He told me to be more proactive about writing

Hancock History: Center/Caesar

In the northwest corner of Hancock County lies an old neighborhood named Caesar (Center). This community has played an important role in the early history of the county. Its story is worth telling.

In 1800 Chief Muchihira moved his Choctaw tribe from a settlement called Hobolochito (present day Picayune) to a nearby fork in the Catahoula Creek. "A beautiful sloping hummock between the Creek and the Playground branch" was a description given by a contemporary visitor. The Indian name for this new location, "Center," was an English translation of the Muskogean word for "coming together" or "where everybody meets." In 1812 this Choctaw village had fifteen hundred Indians in three hundred dwellings.

Hancock County was formed in 1812 and Center was chosen as the county seat because it was in the center of the pioneer settlers who were located in the lower Pearl River Valley. At that time there were no other communities of any significant size on the Gulf coast in Hancock County. Center was on a cross roads of several ancient Indian trails or byways. The east/west trail was incorporated into the Old Federal Road. This byway was established by Thomas Jefferson to enable postal riders to carry mail by horseback from Washington to Pearlington. The mail would then be transported by boat to New Orleans. Many of the migrants from Virginia and the Carolinas used this route with their ox-driven wagons to find good land to homestead and to set up farms in the northern part of the county.

In 1814 General Andrew Jackson used the same byway when he moved his army from Mobile to New Orleans. When Jackson got to Hancock County he divided his troops into three branches. The first division broke off the main body on modern day Highway #53 at the present-day location of Sellers and headed for Fords Fort, and then down to present day Mandeville. The rest of the army went to Center on the ancient byway now known as the Ne-caise-Caesar Road.

At Center the army split again. The heavy wagons and artillery went southwest down the Old Flat Top Road to Gainesville. The middle third went west above Picayune to Henleyfield and crossed the East Pearl River at Pool's Bluff. These locations mentioned, of course, had not acquired their modern names, but are given so the reader might envision the route Jackson took to beat the British army to Chalmette. It is another reason Jackson is considered the best general in North America of that era.

A courthouse was built in 1817 and also became an American village with a post office, jail, inn (hotel), two small stores, and a few houses for the county officials and tradesmen. Nevertheless, the location of the county seat in Center was inconvenient for conducting business. Therefore, in 1825, the County Court was removed to Shieldsboro and Pearlington, alternating every six months.

Conservation Corner: Hunter Safety

It's that time of year that we take to the fields, woodlands, and waters not only to experience the excitement of hunting, but also to enjoy the beauty of Mississippi's outdoors. The increasing criticism of today's hunting problems points directly at the misuse of the privilege of hunting. Tomorrow's privileges may rely on our ability to correct such misuse through education and example. Hunter education is a step in the right direction.

Mississippi's hunter education programs promote responsible, ethical conduct, emphasize the importance of wildlife management, and encourage the safe handling of firearms and ammunition. Students of hunter education courses develop a better understanding of their responsibilities to the wildlife resource, the landowner, other hunters, and themselves. In addition, statistics prove that the number of hunting accidents is significantly lower for individuals who have completed a hunter education course.

In 1988, a law was passed by the Mississippi Legislature that requires all persons born on or after January 1, 1972, to complete a hunter education course prior to purchasing a hunting license.

A course in hunter education provides one with many facts about hunting such as hunter ethics and responsibility, the history of firearms, firearms handling and safety, accident prevention, ammunition safety, ballistic and range, hypothermia, marksmanship, safe shooting zones, water safety, and wildlife identification. Hunter education also teaches the importance of wildlife management and conservation, as well as game care, specialty hunting (muzzle loading, bow hunting, and handguns), first aid, and survival.

Written laws cannot ensure the safety of all hunters; therefore, each hunter should follow an unwritten code of ethics. Hunters' codes are based on respect for wildlife, the land we live on, and others' rights, as well as for themselves.

Irresponsible hunters give a bad public image of all hunters. There are many things a responsible hunter can do to improve their image. Hunters should always leave fences and gates as they found them. When livestock is allowed to get loose, the landowner ends up doing additional work. Thoughtless use of vehicles often damages fields and roads. A good sportsman would never leave litter behind. Also, never practice your aim by shooting bottles, insulators, or road signs. These actions cause damage and debris that other people have to correct or pay for.

Always be respectful and try to leave conditions better than you found them.

in time for myself where I shut the world away and do something I enjoy or need to work on to better myself.

During the mornings when I'm getting ready for work, I absolutely love my makeup routine. It relaxes me and I love playing with the colors. For years now, it has been the calm before the storm — a.k.a. the workday — so to speak.

In the evenings, I have gotten back into running. It is such a good way to burn off some of that anxiety and anger from the workday.

Lately, my newest-found joy can be found in binge watching episodes of "Murder, She Wrote."

Y'all, I can't believe it took me this long to watch this show. I always wanted to check it out, but I think Angela Lansbury's passing prompted me to finally take the plunge.

Of course, I'm familiar with her work. She will always have a special place in my heart as Mrs.

Potts in Disney's "Beauty and the Beast."

But, my favorite role of hers was her portrayal of Miss Price in Disney's "Bedknobs and Broomsticks."

However, Jessica Fletcher is rapidly climbing the ranks of my favorite cinematic characters.

"Murder, She Wrote," is absolutely adorable. I know, adorable seems like an odd way to describe a show about murder, but that's how I feel about the show.

One of my favorite features is the guest actor appearances. I love watching all the cinematic greats that I grew up with, as I was and still am, an avid lover of classic movies.

Even though I do find these moments to just do something I enjoy, I still have problems turning my brain off from the constant barrage of existential thoughts and unresolved ongoing problems.

But, what I'm really grateful for is people like my friend. He offered me advice, didn't judge my feelings about matters, and really listened to me.

In 1837 the county seat was again moved to Gainesville. Coincidentally, the Choctaw Indians left Center at the same time and Center became a ghost town.

The town of Center had a rebirth during the Sawmill Era. The Weston Lumber Company ran a passenger train from Logtown to Center. At Center there was a mule camp, an ox camp, and a skidder camp. There was more business then in Center than in Pican-yune. Around 1891 the US Post Office issued an order that no two post offices in any state could have the same name. A Postmaster named Batson suggested the name "Caesar." Local folklore believes this surname was used by a local Indian chief who presumably admired the ancient Roman emperor.

The two villages of Caesar and Leetown were separated by the Catahoula Creek and were codependent with intertwining histories. The towns would share itinerant preachers and intermarry for 170years. Old family names in Center/Caesar were Jones, Goss, Pearson, Stanford, Lumpkin, Varnado, Smith, and Breland. Over the Twentieth Century the village of Leetown would grow while Caesar diminished in size and economy.

In the history of the United States small towns have come and gone. Center/Caesar was the county seat of Hancock County in 1812 and now it is a virtual ghost town. That said, there are fifth generation families that own old farms there that have never stopped loving this land so rich with history.

flu vaccination for $10. Insurance, Medicaid and Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP) is accepted for children’s flu shots. A list of all VFC providers can be found at www.HealthyMS.com/vfc.

Adults who are underinsured or uninsured and who meet certain high-risk criteria qualify for an adult flu vaccination at all MSDH county health department clinics. Flu shots for insured adults are now widely available through private physicians, pharmacies and retail centers.

While vaccination is the best protection against flu, basic infection control measures can also reduce the spread of flu and should be taken whether or not individuals are vaccinated. These measures include covering your mouth when coughing and sneezing, staying at home when you or your children are sick, and washing your hands frequently. Wearing a face covering in public places offers additional protection against the flu.

Please call your local county health department to make an appointment for your vaccination.

To locate a county health department clinic in your area or for more information on flu, visit the MSDH website at www.HealthyMS.com/flu. Follow MSDH by email and social media at HealthyMS.com/connect.

went so well that he was able to compete in and complete the one desert he wanted to tackle since he began the quest which was the Atacama Crossing in Chile.

Bezou continued, “My therapy went well enough that I was able to complete the one race that I was looking the most forward to competing in which was Atacama. I still have the tear in my meniscus which doctors say may heal on its own or I may have to get remediation on it at a later date. But, for now, I am still competing and I have the race in Antarctica left to complete the 4 Deserts Grand Slam in late November.”

Bezou added, “Atacama was the harshest environment to compete in that I have endured. The course was expansive and the depth of the desert landscape deceived your eyes on a daily basis. The climate differential was dramatic with nights being in the 20s sometimes and then the daily temperatures escalating to 100 degrees. It was the ultimate test that I thought it would be and more with the descents and climbs through dunes and treacherous surface area. Due to the injury and not wanting to reinjure it, I had to take this race a little slower than I would have liked; however, the decrease in pace allowed me to appreciate the landscape and the toll it takes on you more than in other races I have competed in.”

Bezou’s injury in Lapland was a result of contributing factors including the treacherous landscape. The injury made itself known during the second stage of the race and it was complicated by factors outside the race. Bezou’s wife, Karen, was supposed to accompany him to Lapland and the trip to the location was to be a vacation of sorts for the two of them. But, their dog took ill and was diagnosed with diabetes and had to begin medicinal therapy. They could not leave the dog with someone to begin this life altering treatment, so Karen stayed behind. That complicated matters from a psychological standpoint because she would be at the end of the stages to cheer Bezou on. The trip took its toll on Bezou as well because he attempted to see and do too much before the race which left him exhausted. Bezou stated, “I was exhausted with the travel, what was happening at home, and the change in the whole mindset. To be truthful, the injury was really a blessing because it forced me to take care of my body. Looking back, I am thankful. I know that sounds odd, but it is true.”

Looking forward to the final race in the feat that Bezou is still chasing, it will take place in the last frontier and on the last continent - Antarctica. The race will take place from November 25 through December 1. Bezou stated that this will be the harshest and most unforgiving environment that he will ever compete in. The winds can gust to 50-60 miles per hour, at this time of year it is daylight 24 hours, the cold is bone-chilling, and you do not know if it will rain or snow from one day to the next. Unpredictable is the most sensible word to describe the climate. All of this makes the competition time all the more unknown as the racers may be on timetables that range from 4 hours to 12 hours to complete enough mileage in a period to be able to achieve the 155 miles needed for completion in seven days.

The competitors will stay on a ship when not running as the environment is not conducive to sleeping in tents on the frozen island. They will be transported to the island to compete by Zodiac boats. The pace of this race will be frenetic, at best.

Bezou ended, “We leave for Antarctica on November 19. Karen will be accompanying me to this final race. We will be celebrating our 25th wedding anniversary with this trip. I am looking forward to completing this journey. While I will not be the third American to complete the Grand Slam Plus, I will be one of 10 Americans to complete the Grand Slam. This is not a failure because one must fail to find success. Despite the injury, I found a way to complete a goal and have success doing it.”

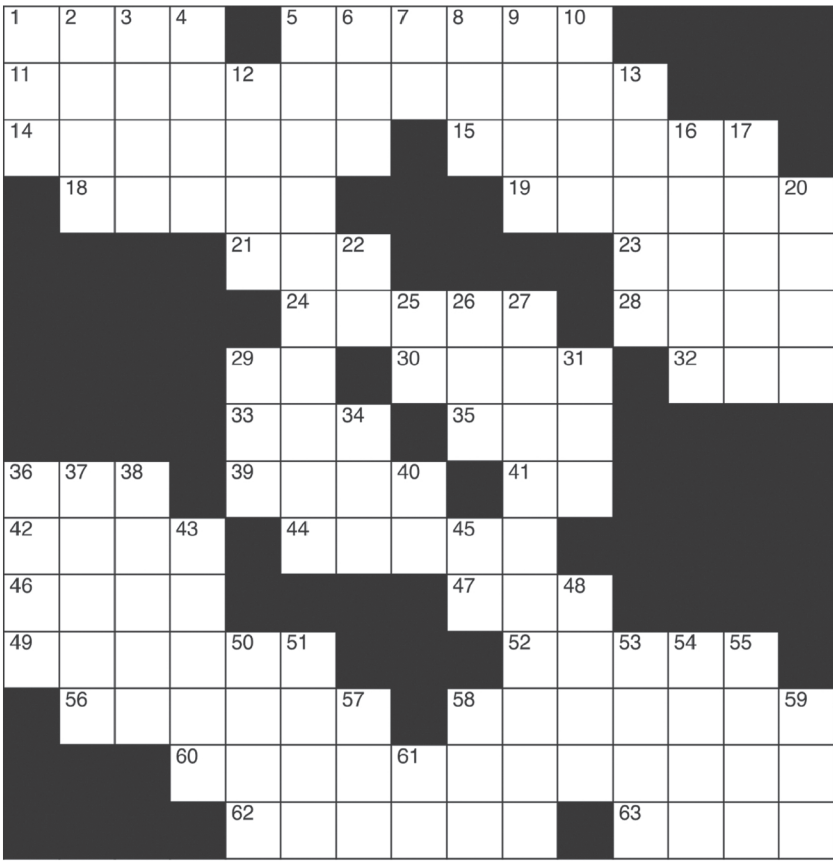

The 4 Deserts Grand Slam began in 2008 with Racing the Planet. To date, there have only been 78 Grand Slam finishers. Of that number, eight of the finishers are Grand Slam Plus finishers. In the same 78 numbers, only nine finishers are American.

If anyone wants to send Bezou best wishes during his competition, you can go to this link and search his name to send him an email. The link is <https://www.racingtheplanet.com/thelastdesert/results>.

Embracing Joy

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

There is a wonderful moment of joy in the apocryphal book of 3 Maccabees as the Hebrew people experienced an amazing deliverance from what had been feared to be a devastating and overwhelming loss at the hands of an enemy. The king ordered a great celebration with wine, and everything needed for a great festival. A beautiful line commemorating the occasion describes the scene. “They stopped their chanting of dirges and took up the song of their ancestors, praising God, their savior and worker of wonders. Putting an end to all mourning and wailing, they formed choruses as a sign of peaceful joy.” (3 Maccabees 6: 30-32)

Reflection on that line offers a reminder of the importance of “peaceful joy” in our lives. We do not often employ those two words in tandem, but they do seem appropriate. Joy is a peaceful emotion. When all the excitement of the moment has settled, and we have time for thoughtful consideration, there is a time of deep peace. It is an opportunity for gratitude.

This statement from the ancient book serves as an important moment to consider the profound occasions of our own lives. We all face challenging times. Just as the people in this text had endured serious fears and trepidation, so have we all. It may be a fearful and threatening diagnosis. It may be a heartbreaking loss. It may be a financial worry. It may be a time of concern about the direction of a career. It could, and often does, emerge from our worry about the troubles of a child or grandchild. Sometimes the result is celebration. Sometimes it is grief and disappointment. It is important to remember that troubles do pass. The Psalmist reminds us that “weeping may endure for the night, but joy comes in the morning”. The key for all our experiences is in the capacity to trust in the possibilities of peace and joy in the midst of the circumstances of life.

For persons of spiritual faith, hope is not nearly so much in the results, but in the ability to believe that there is strength for the moment no matter the imme-diated outcome. We are the recipients of great love and grace in life. One writer declared that her faith was in the truth that love is her constant reality, and that no matter what she does or does not do, nothing can separate her from that love. One of the great statements of hope in all of scripture comes from the epistle of 1 John when he declares with simple finality, “God is love”.

It is wonderful to “sing the songs of our ancestors.....as a sign of peaceful joy”. It offers us courage and hope. It is an equal blessing to embrace “peaceful joy” in every season of life. We can be thankful for that.

Rocks calm Blue Waves 45-14

Saint Stanislaus wide receiver Jackson Dicerbo takes a pass 76 yards for the score against the Port Gibson Blue Waves in the Rocks' 45-14 win in the first round of the Class 3A state playoffs on Friday.

STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws hosted the Port Gibson Blue Waves for the first round of the Class 3A state playoffs 'between the walls' on Friday.

SSC took advantage of two early turnovers by the Blue Waves to jump out to a 28-0 lead in the first quarter en route to a 45-14 rout.

And, during the rout SSC running back set a new single-season rushing record of 1,668 yards eclipsing Bennett Rimmer's record of 1,647 yards set in 2011.

The Rocks (7-4) started the game on offense. After a loss on the first play from scrimmage, Hudson Osborne connected with Jackson Dicerbo who raced 76 yards for a touchdown with 10:57 left in the first quarter. Evan Noel converted the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

On the Blue Waves' first possession, Heith Shinn recovered a loose ball on the third play from scrimmage at the Port Gibson 14 yard line.

Osborne found Dicerbo immediately for a 14-yard scoring toss with 10:18 left in the first quarter. Noel converted the PAT for a 14-0 lead.

Port Gibson ended up having to punt away to SSC and the Rocks tookover on their own 18 yard line.

Chapman ripped off a 56-yard run to set up the Rocks' next score. Osborne went back to the and received a heavy dose of Chapman with gains of 26, 14, and 12 yards and two carries by Stegall for six yards each. Osborne went back to the air and connected with Levi Green for a 13-yard scoring pass with 10:04 left in the first half. Noel's PAT made the score 35-0.

The Blue Waves put together a 10-play drive that stalled on the Rocks' 26 yard line as they turned the ball over on downs.

The Blue Waves stopped the Rocks for the first time in the game and forced a 62-yard punt by Noel that flipped the field in favor of SSC.

The Blue Waves took over on their own nine yard line but were limited to a three-and-out.

After a shanked punt, the Rocks took over on the Port Gibson 30 yard line. SSC settled for a 35-yard field goal by Noel that made the score 38-0 with :03 seconds left before halftime.

The second half started with a strong defensive stand by the Rock defense led by Bradford, Max Fromme, and Chesley Rhodes. Another shanked punt by the Blue Waves gave SSC the ball at the Blue Waves 29 yard line.

Chapman carried for 5 yards before a 24-yard scamper to the endzone with 8:07 left in the third quarter rounded out the scoring for SSC. Noel's PAT made the score 45-0.

The scoring run by Chapman gave him 164 yards on 15 carries which brought his season total to 1,668 yards. That total eclipsed the previous single-season best mark of 1,647 yards set by Bennett Rimmer in 2011.

Chapman commented on setting the record, "To achieve this is very humbling. I have put in a lot of hard work in practice, as have my teammates, and also outside of school with my trainer. I have tried to remain consistent in how I approach each week and that carries over to the field. I put my trust in my offensive line and they have picked up anyone in front of me. If they give me the space, I will get past the defender."

The Blue Waves added two scores in the fourth quarter. Jeremiah Crystian scored on a 71-yard run with 9:57 left in the game and also added the two-point conversion run to make the score 45-8.

Then, with no time remaining, Cameron Gibson connected with Crystian on a 18-yard scoring toss to make the final score 45-14.

SSC head coach Nate Encrpera stated, "Play-off games take on a different mentality and the players responded. The defensive unit is playing with violent abandon while the offense was efficient in getting things done eay in the game that helped change what Port Gibson is comfortable doing. Hudson Osborne and Jackson Dicerbo had a great connection early in the game. Chandler Chapman is a special player and it was nice to see him be rewarded for his hard work this evening setting a new mark for us. Now, we are 0-0 and are focused on Raleigh. We have to stay focused, play error-free, execute what we do well, continue to play stingy defense, and prepare for a battle this coming Friday."

The Rocks were led by Osbirne who threw for 166 yards and 4 touchdowns on 6-for-11 passing. Dicerbo caught 3 passes for 105 yards and 2 touchdowns. On defense, the Rocks were led by John Scott Stassi with 8 tackles followed by Logan with 7 stops.

Saint Stanislaus will travel to Raleigh on Friday for a second round matchup with the Lions. Raleigh (10-1) defeated Morton on Friday 52-6. The Lions feature the Mississippi's top rated recruit in Suntarine Perkins. Game time is set for 7 p.m. See you at the game!

Mississippi will add a 7A classification to sports and activities beginning with the 2023-24 academic year.

The 7A classification will represent the 24 largest schools in Mississippi. It was thought that Hancock would move into the largest classification; however, the Hawks will remain in Class 6A as the largest school in the class.

Bay High and Pass Christian both remain in Class 4A while OLA and Saint Stanislaus will both be members of Class 3A.

HOURS: MONDAY-SUNDAY:
7AM - 2PM

Comfort and camaraderie, just two of the reasons Mockingbird Cafe has become known as the Living Room of Bay St. Louis. Opening in 2006, the Mockingbird Cafe grew out of a need for a place for community healing in the aftermath of Katrina. In the midst of the carnage left by the storm, locals and volunteers alike found the Mockingbird to be a welcoming and comforting spot to meet for coffee and conversation during those difficult times.

Today, the coffee shop maintains its homey feel but has evolved into so much more. As a family-friendly coffee shop, restaurant, live music venue, art gallery, and community hub, it's no wonder the Mockingbird Cafe is a favorite go-to destination for visitors and locals alike. Made daily from fresh ingredients, their menu sports a variety of local, drool-worthy favorites including pulled pork & grits, chicken & waffles, their signature Mockingburger, homemade granola, and so much more.

In celebration of its hotspot status, Mockingbird Cafe will be hosting live music by Fred Gee and the Hard Stuff out on their covered stage starting at sunset. If you're searching for great food,

Coast Electric announces more than $6.2 million in capital credits for members

SEA COAST ECHO

Coast Electric Power Association President and CEO Ron Barnes announced at the cooperative's 2022 Annual Meeting that the cooperative will retire $6,229,069 in capital credits to its members, which is the largest retirement in company history. Checks are scheduled to be mailed to eligible current and former members in December. By the end of 2022, Coast Electric will have paid more than $87 million in capital credit retirements to current and former members.

What are capital credits?

Member-owned cooperatives are not-for-profit organizations operated for the benefit of their members. In general, if there are revenues from electric services in excess of operating costs and expenses, those funds are credited to a member's capital account based on their patronage. Such funds, which are also called 'capital credits,' are the life blood that enables cooperatives to satisfy the future growth and power needs of its members. Capital credits represent a critical source of equity for Coast Electric. Since a cooperative's members are also the people it serves, capital credits reflect each member's ownership in, and contribution of capital to, the cooperative.

Where does the money come from?

Each member is allocated capital credits based on how much energy they obtain from the cooperative. The more energy a member purchases, the greater the amount of capital credit allocated to the member's account. At the end of each year, Coast Electric subtracts operating costs and expenses from operating revenue collected during the year. This difference is called margins, which are allocated to the members on the basis of patronage.

How does capital credit retirement work?

Any member who has purchased electricity from Coast Electric during the time period being retired is eligible to receive a capital credit check. Checks will be mailed to the last address Coast Electric has on file. This is why it is important for former members to make sure we have your current address on file.

Members who have questions about their capital credit accounts, may visit <https://coast-epa.com/my-benefits/#capital-credits>. Coast Electric Power Association, headquartered in Kiln, serves more than 88,000 meters in Hancock, Harrison and Pearl River counties. For more information on the cooperative, visit www.coastepa.com, follow www.twitter.com/CoastElectric and www.instagram.com/coast-electric, or like www.facebook.com/coastelectric.
